OONI | Explorer

OONI Explorer for Researchers

What is OONI Explorer?

OONI Explorer is the world's largest open dataset on Internet censorship.

Access OONI Explorer:
https://explorer.ooni.org/

Why use OONI Explorer?

- Investigate Internet censorship:
  From 2012 to date, OONI Explorer hosts data from 241 countries.

- Empirical data:
  Rich network measurement data.

- Charts and Search Tool:
  Explore and visualize OONI data easily.

OONI data in research

OONI data has supported research on internet censorship in numerous countries (such as Iran, Egypt, Myanmar, India, Venezuela, Uganda, and Russia), as well as a number of academic papers.

OONI Reports:
https://ooni.org/reports/

OONI

Founded in 2012, the Open Observatory of Network Interference (OONI) is a non-profit free software project documenting Internet censorship around the world.

Learn more about OONI: https://ooni.org/